I cannot keep silent.
These dreams are so
vile, so real to me…

Can they be only
dreams? Do I go mad as I weaken from this strange malady?

I am not sure which I fear most, madness or
my dreams.

Dare I speak of them, even to you? I must or surely I will go mad
with the horror. In them Father Micah comes to me, but not as a priest.
His eyes are unholy
with lust and evil, and he comes to my bed as I can only watch,
horror-stricken, unable
to move.

And then he has his way with me. He does things unspeakable.
Oh, little friend, I fear I will die of these dreams!

Can you die from dreams? Dear God,
there are times when I would prefer death to what visits me in my dreams!
